A probable burial mound with no recognisable ditch, 18yds diam and 3ft high but spread by ploughing, on high ground one field S of Wood End Farm. (1)
 A low circular mound, 30m diam with a max height of 0.9m, much reduced by ploughing. Almost certainly a barrow. (2)
 Much ploughed out tumulus with signs of ditch 28yds in diam, 3ft high. (3)
 A rectangular area is enclosed around the barrow leaving the mound unploughed in the future works (sic). However the mound is now populated by weeds and willowherb and some small shrubs and trees are colonizing the area. Mound is reduced but measures 8m diameter by ? 0.45m high. No ditch is evident through the ploughsoil. (4)
